Methodology and limits

These are historical editorial priority estimates, retained for planning continuity, not measured demand or search rankings. The original site-page report did not record four individual component scores, so its totals cannot be presented as a reproducible weighted calculation. No missing scores, search volumes or keyword-tool data have been invented. Validate priorities with actual query and enquiry data when measured data is available.

The 18 site questions were checked against the 144 programme questions: 162 distinct exact questions. Related themes can still overlap in search intent. Clear answers may help readers, but there is no guarantee of snippets, rankings or AI Overview inclusion. Google documents the end of FAQ rich results from 7 May 2026.
