About this pack

The Homepage set answers brand-level questions a first-time visitor asks before choosing any programme: what Maverick is, how the partner-university model works, who awards the qualification, and what support is provided. The Edutainment set is a proposed upgrade of the current on-page FAQ list - tightened from 15 basic questions to 10 structured ones, and adding the question parents ask first: safety and supervision. All content follows the same standards as the approved provider FAQ pack: globally neutral wording, no unverified claims, direct answer-first structure.

Homepage FAQs

Brand-level questions for the website homepage | 8 questions

Purpose: Site-wide FAQs for the homepage FAQ section. Brand-level trust + orientation questions - the visitor may not yet know which programme they want.

Homepage FAQ Set (8 questions)

Q. What is Maverick Business Academy?

Maverick Business Academy is a global education platform connecting students and working professionals worldwide with internationally recognised programmes - from bachelor's and master's degrees to doctoral research and professional diplomas - delivered through established partner universities and awarding bodies. One team, one journey: guidance from your first enquiry to graduation.

Q. How does Maverick work with its partner universities?

Maverick partners with established universities and regulated awarding bodies, and your qualification is awarded directly by the partner institution - carrying that institution's name, recognition and accreditations. Maverick's role is the journey around the award: programme guidance, eligibility review, enrolment support and student success services.

Q. Which types of programmes can I study through Maverick?

The portfolio covers the full qualification ladder:

- Bachelor's degrees (BBA, BSc, BA routes - including fast-track top-up options)
- Master's programmes (MBA, Executive MBA, MSc, LLM - including a dual-award Global MBA)
- Doctoral research (PhD, DBA pathways)
- Professional diplomas (Level 3 to Level 7)
- Educational travel through Maverick Edutainment

Whatever stage you're at, there is a defined next rung.

Q. Can I study with Maverick from anywhere in the world?

Yes. Programmes are built for a global audience, with flexible online and blended learning models that let you study from wherever you live and work. Students worldwide join the same programmes, earn the same awards, and receive the same support - location is not a barrier.

Q. Who actually awards the degree or diploma I receive?

The partner university or regulated awarding body - never Maverick itself. Your certificate carries the awarding institution's name and stands on that institution's recognition and accreditations, verifiable directly with the awarding body.

Q. How do I choose the right programme for my goals?

Start with a free consultation - share your academic background, work experience and career direction, and the advisory team maps you to the right level and programme (including honest advice if a different rung of the ladder fits better). You never have to decode qualification frameworks alone.

Q. Are the programmes accredited and recognised?

Each programme carries the accreditations and recognition of its awarding institution - including internationally accredited business schools and awarding organisations regulated on formal qualification frameworks. Details for every partner are published on our Accreditations page, and the admissions team can advise on recognition for your specific goals.

Q. What support will I get from enquiry to graduation?

End-to-end support is the core of the model: programme guidance and eligibility review before you enrol; enrolment and documentation help as you join; academic and assignment support, student success tracking and career guidance while you study; and graduation support at the finish. You are never left to navigate alone.

Fee, programme and entry details are confirmed individually during the admissions eligibility review and may change without notice.

Edutainment - Educational Tours FAQs

Upgraded set for the Educational Tours page (replaces the current 15 basic on-page Q&As; with a structured set of 10) | 10 questions

Purpose: Upgraded FAQ set for the Educational Tours (Edutainment) page - replaces the 15 basic hardcoded Q&As with a tighter, SEO-structured, parent-trust-first set of 10.

Edutainment FAQ Set (10 questions)

Q. What is Maverick Edutainment?

Maverick Edutainment designs educational travel programmes that combine learning with experience - academic visits, industry exposure, cultural immersion and recreation, built around defined learning objectives. It turns a school or university trip into a structured learning experience students actually remember.

Q. How is an Edutainment programme different from a normal school tour?

A normal tour is planned around sightseeing; an Edutainment programme is planned around learning outcomes - with the destination, visits and activities selected to serve them. Students still explore and enjoy, but every day connects back to a purpose: academic exposure, professional insight, cultural understanding or personal development.

Q. Who can take part in an Edutainment programme?

Programmes are designed for schools, universities and educational institutions - student groups accompanied by their educators. Itineraries are age-appropriate by design, matched to the group's academic level and objectives.

Q. What kinds of experiences are included?

Depending on the destination and package, a journey can include four experience layers:

- Academic - campus visits, workshops, subject-linked learning sessions
- Professional - industry visits and real workplace exposure
- Cultural - heritage, local life and cross-cultural understanding
- Recreational - enjoyment and bonding that make the learning stick

Q. How are safety and supervision handled?

Safety is planned before anything else: vetted itineraries, structured supervision alongside accompanying teachers, and defined emergency procedures for every programme. Parents and institutions receive the full plan before departure, so nothing about the trip is a mystery.

Q. Can the programme be customised to our curriculum or a specific subject?

Yes - customisation is the point. Institutions can request itineraries built around a subject, department or learning goal (business, science, culture, language and more), and the programme is planned backwards from those objectives, including pre-trip briefings where useful.

Q. What is included in the package - and are flights included?

Each proposal clearly lists inclusions - typically programme activities, entries, in-destination transport, accommodation and meals as specified - with flights handled according to the selected package. Every quotation states exactly what is and isn't included, so there are no surprise costs.

Q. Do students receive certificates or documented learning outcomes?

Yes - participation is recognised, and programmes can conclude with certificates and documented learning outcomes aligned to the trip's objectives, giving students tangible evidence for portfolios and applications.

Q. How far in advance should we plan, and how do we get a proposal?

Earlier is better - advance planning secures the best availability for institutions, travel and seasonal programmes. Share your group size, objectives and preferred window, and the team returns a structured proposal with itinerary and transparent pricing.

Q. Is help available with visas and travel documentation?

Yes - for international programmes, the team provides guidance on visa and travel documentation requirements for the destination, coordinated with the institution so group paperwork moves together rather than family-by-family.

Programme availability, inclusions and pricing are confirmed in each institution's written proposal and may vary by destination and season.
